Letter:

Are drydock operations involving ship refurbishment subject to the asbestos regulations?

These operations are subject if they involve the wrecking of load supporting structural members. Operations involving only refurbishment of boiler and pipes are not subject.

Revised October 14, 1975 at section 61.21(j), defining demolition as wrecking or taking out of any load supporting structural member or related stripping or removing of asbestos materials. Revised March 2, 1977 - all structural members are subject to the regulations.
